Introduction.

Welcome to the world of Furnastra.

In these pages, we've outlined the brand basics. It's everything you need to know to live in - and correctly grow - the world of Furnastra.

“It takes 20 years to build a reputation and five minutes to ruin it. If you think about that, you’ll do things differently.”

Warren Buffet

Furnastra's visual identity guidelines has been established to guide a new approach to visual communication in printed and digital branded content. This visual identity guide is a reference for everyone who is authorized to work with the Furnastra brand.

When it comes to our brand & our reputation, we maintain strict control over it. We hold ourselves to incredibly high standards, and we expect the same wherever our brand is represented.

Our intent with this guide is not to restrict creativity and innovation: far from it.

We believe in the creative spirit, and innovation is one of our core values. What we strive for is a coordinated, consistent, and effective brand presence in everything we create.

If we make something, we want to make sure that people know where it came from.

While some of our brand executions and graphics have been standardized - like business cards, letterhead, and envelopes - these are not intended as the focus of this guide. Instead, it is to empower you, the creative, with the elements you need to create.

By utilizing these tools & resources, and adhering to the guidelines within, you'll make things that look like the Furnastra brand, every time.

Please refer back to this guide often. If you have any questions concerning this guide, please don't hesitate to reach out to our Design team at hello@4amdesigns.in

About the Brand.

We're excited to announce the launch of Furnastra, the new brand name for our hospital furniture parts segment, a key offering that has been part of Mitsu Chem for years.

While this segment has always been integral to our business, we felt it was time to give it its own identity. This move allows us to highlight the specialized nature of our products while continuing to uphold the same legacy of quality, innovation, and trust that Mitsu Chem has built over the past 35 years.

Furnastra is focused on delivering high-quality, durable, and ergonomic solutions designed for healthcare environments. With a commitment to functionality and comfort, our hospital furniture parts meet the evolving needs of modern infrastructure. By launching Furnastra as a distinct brand, we can provide a more tailored experience for our customers while ensuring that every piece reflects our standards of excellence, as we have consistently done under Mitsu Chem.

Though Furnastra is now a separate brand, it will always be closely associated with Mitsu Chem, ensuring that the values of innovation, quality, and customer satisfaction continue to be at the core of everything we do. Our customers can trust that every Furnastra product is backed by the same high standards and expertise that have made Mitsu Chem a leader in the industry for over 35 years.

The stylized "F" in Furnastra's logo represents much more than the brand's initial. Its smooth, continuous curves evoke the form of the furniture created by the company—sleek, ergonomic, and thoughtfully designed.

The flowing design symbolizes care, comfort, and the seamless integration of function and aesthetics, which is vital in hospital furniture. Moreover, the gentle curvature suggests an element of trust and reliability, essential traits for a brand operating in the healthcare industry.

The subtle sparkle next to the "F" reflects the inspiration from "Nakshatra" (star), reinforcing ideas of guidance, hope, and excellence.

Visual Style.

Every brand needs a visual style guide.

It's the graphical culmination of all strategic work, a collection of elements that serves as the visual embodiment of the brand identity. This process constructs a comprehensive and cohesive system for execution, and addresses the full range of potential uses; from physical size and shape constraints and varying color formats, to the filetypes required to perform on all modern media platforms.

At its core, the Visual Style System will be composed of a brand signature (the logo, wordmark or logotype) to serve as the trademark (and potentially countless other visual components).

To support that primary identifying element, we develop complementary patterns, color and typographic systems, as well as other visual elements designed to round out the comprehensive and unique graphic style for the brand.

As a result of this process, it is critical to consider and build all necessary variants to ensure both ease of use and effective presentation at all sizes and in all environments.

When evaluating concepts, it's essential to consider them within the context of example communications, ensuring that the most critical brand touchpoints are addressed, such as stationery, collateral, website, and environments.

This considers both the primary brand lockup and possible brand extensions, geographic signifiers, and other necessary alternates.

Glossary.

CORPORATE IDENTITY

A corporate identity is the overall image of a corporation, a firm, or a business in the minds of diverse publics, such as customers and investors and employees. It is a primary task of the company communications department to maintain and build this identity to accord with and facilitate the attainment of business objectives.

IDENTITY MANUAL

A formal reference document establishing technical and creative standards for a visual identity system. Typical standards include descriptions and specifications for reproducing the logo or logotype stationery system, common print and web applications and examples of use on merchandise.

LOGO

A logo is a graphic mark or emblem commonly used by commercial enterprises, organizations and even individuals to aid and promote instant public recognition. Logos are either purely graphic (symbols/ icons) or are composed of the name of the organization (a logotype or wordmark).

BRAND ARCHITECTURE

The organizational system that defines how a company's individual brands relate to and interact with one another. It shows the role and the hierarchy that each brand plays in the greater structure of the company and defines the function of each. It provides clarity to companies and enables them to differentiate their brand elements.

TYPEFACE/FONT FAMILY

In typography, a typeface (also known as font family) is a set of one or more fonts each composed of glyphs that share common design features. Each font of a typeface has a specific weight, style, condensation, width, slant, italicization, ornamentation, and designer or foundry. There are thousands of different typefaces in existence, with new ones being developed constantly.

STATIONERY

Stationery has historically pertained to a wide gamut of materials: paper and office supplies, writing implements, greeting cards, glue, pencil cases and other similar items.

TEMPLATE

A pre-developed page layout in electronic or paper media, used to make new pages with a similar design, pattern, or style.

BRAND

A mix of tangible and intangible attributes, symbolized in a trademark that can be managed to create value for organizations and customers. It is the physical representation of a company's offerings and values, but can exist subjectively in a person's mind. GRAPHIC STYLE

A consistent theme of the graphic elements of a brand's overall visual appearance. Graphic style is recognizable by the visual traits of an overall parent brand and can vary slightly but is overall consistent among the sub-brands.

CMYK refers to the four inks used in some color printing: cyan, magenta, yellow, and key (black). The "K" in CMYK stands for key because in four-color printing, cyan, magenta, and yellow printing plates are carefully keyed, or aligned, with the key of the black key plate.

RGB

The RGB color model is an additive color model in which red, green, and blue light are added together in various ways to reproduce a broad array of colors. The name of the model comes from the initials of the three additive primary colors, red, green, and blue.

PRIMARY COLORS

The core selection of identifying colors that are used in a logo.

PALETTE

A given, finite set of colors for the management of digital images. weight, style, condensation, width, slant, italicization, ornamentation, and designer or foundry.
